

Wallace Stegner Center for Land, Resources & the Environment

Named after the Pulitzer Prize-winning author and conservationist, the Wallace Stegner Center for Land, Resources & the Environment offers students one of the top environmental law programs in the United States. We also offer unparalleled access to the mountains, rivers, and desert landscapes that inspire us, and many students, to pursue environmental law.

DEGREES AND ENGAGEMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Educational opportunities include a J.D. Certificate in Environmental and Natural Resources Law, in-house clinics in environmental justice and environmental law policy, and numerous substantive law courses.

Other opportunities include an LL.M. degree, a Research Fellows Program, an Environmental Dispute Resolution Program, a Law and Policy Program, and a variety of public events and speakers.

FACULTY

The Stegner Center boasts a talented and diverse team of faculty members who are working to shape environmental law and policy, and who are committed to involving students in that work. Our faculty members serve on local and national NGO boards and advisory committees, collaborate with state and federal government officials to improve environmental policies, and advocate in the courtroom and legislative chambers.

At the Wallace Stegner Center for Land, Resources & the Environment, we believe that well-conceived and carefully implemented laws and policies are the cornerstones of a just and equitable society, and we invite you to join us in that pursuit.

Environmental Law Program ranked

TOP 10

among public law schools,
nine years running

U.S. News & World Report
2015 - 2024

A+

rating in environmental law

PreLaw Magazine, 2023

THE UNIVERSITY OF UTAH
S.J. QUINNEY COLLEGE OF LAW

Office of Admissions
383 S. University Street
Salt Lake City, UT 84112
(801) 581-7479

sjquinney.utah.edu/admissions
admissions@law.utah.edu

Learn more about the Stegner Center